

Aims

- To educate by organising meetings, creating slide sets and providing opportunities for trainees in pathology and dermatology to spend time in centres of dermatopathology of their choices.

- To establish a European Diploma of Dermatopathology, that is the equivalent of the Board Examination in the United States and that which now exists in the United Kingdom. That diploma would be accessible to both pathologists and dermatologists.

- To enhance co-operation between pathologists and dermatologists interested in dermatopathology.

- To standardise quality criteria of performance in dermatopathology.

- Membership provides access to all Society activities and a substantial discount subscription to the journal "Dermatopathology - Practical and Conceptual".