

A PRACTICAL APPROACH TO THE DIAGNOSIS OF ADNEXAL TUMORS OF THE SKIN

MAY 13, 2016
UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL
GENEVA, SWITZERLAND

General information

The Swiss Group of Dermatopathology, the Swiss Society of Dermatology and the European Society of Dermatopathology are organizing a one-day course on adnexal tumors of the skin. The course, directed towards pathologists, dermatologists and dermatopathologists, will be held in the form of an interactive workshop with case discussions on slide projection screens and lectures. Interesting cases will be selected by the organizers and the course faculty. Course participants are strongly encouraged to bring and discuss their own cases.
